Love is Colored Blind

June 14, 2020

Today's message is called "Love is Colored Blind." Some would say Love should be colored blind, instead of saying love is colored blind; but the truth is that if Love is not colored blind then it's not LOVE.

So where does racism, profiling, judgmental thoughts and sense of disgust for other nationalities come from?

How do I address this issue of love; of being colored blind?

So was Jesus colored blind or was he for Jews only? Did he die for all nationalities and all ethnic backgrounds?

The obvious answer is yes, yet 2000 years later we still struggle with being colored blind.

Read Luke 10:25-37

In order to be colored blind:

1. We _____ have _____ for God and love for all _____ as our _____.

vs 25-28

Verse 29 They try to justify their lack of love with ignorance. (Acting like they don't know who their neighbor is.)

FBCN Notes

In order to be colored blind:

2. We _____ or
_____.

vs 30-32

In order to be colored blind:

3. We need to _____ for them and _____ them.

vs 33-37
